The former England international goalkeeper signed a one-year contract extension with the Club in May 2023, keeping him at the club until the summer of 2024. Scott Carson originally joined Manchester City on a season-long loan deal on deadline day of the August 2019 transfer window. He signed another loan in September 2020. Starting his career at Leeds United, Carson joined Rafael Benitez's Liverpool in January 2005 and featured against Juventus in the Champions League. Loan spells at Sheffield Wednesday, Charlton Athletic and Aston Villa followed. His performances earned him a place in England's 2006 World Cup squad and a permanent move to West Brom in 2008. After three successful years at West Brom, Carson moved to Turkish side Bursaspor in 2011 and earned another England call-up in November 2011. He returned to England in 2013 with Wigan Athletic before moving to Derby County in 2015, where he featured 30 times in the 2018/19 season. Carson brought his experience to City's goalkeeping team from 2019 onwards, eventually debuting in the 2020/21 season against Newcastle. He also appeared in the 2021/22 season against Sporting Lisbon and has continued to support Ederson and Ortega in the 2022/23 campaign. Carson was part of City's 2022/23 Premier League, FA Cup, and Champions League Treble-winning team. He was also part of the squad that won the UEFA Super Cup against Sevilla in 2023.
